Amusements.

A tastefully gotten up booklet containing a number of photographic half tones of Miss Rhe Lorraine, who comes to the Barre opera house with her own company for a special engagement of one week commencing July 4th is to be had for the asking in any drug store as well as the jewelry, confectionery and shoe stores of the city.

To those who have never had the pleasure of seeing Miss Lorraine, this little souvenir will prove excellent reading besides giving some idea of this lady's striking personality, the photographs being especially true to life.

Some idea of the costuming of Miss Lorraine's plays will also be gained in its perusal.

As stated in these columns before Miss Lorraine comes this year with a much larger and stronger supporting company and should receive an enthusiastic welcome.

Special attention is given the vaudeville numbers, the artists being of the highest order and changing their respective specialties each night.

The management have arranged for the placing of electric fans throughout the house during Miss Lorraine's engagement, thus assuring perfect comfort for their patrons. Prices 10, 20 and 30 c.

THE NATIONAL HOLIDAY.

Cost 400 Lives Last Year. A Plea for Care.

To the People of Vermont:

The approach of our great "National Holiday" is to many a source of considerable anxiety. Its celebration last year caused 400 casualties. The number insured who recovered were 3883; 408 died from lock jaw caused by injuries. Many lost an arm or leg; forty were rendered blind.

These accidents were caused by the toy pistol and other explosives. In view of these many accidents we would warn all parents and other persons having charge of children, of the great danger attending these explosives, and especially of allowing children to handle them.

However, should any accident occur, however slight, do not temporize with it but call your physician at once. Antiseptics and cauterization are not sufficient; the only means to prevent lock-jaw is the use of Tetanus Antitoxin.

By the State Board of Health.

Henry D. Holton, Secretary.

BASE HITS.

The Chalmers seem to have got rid of the Pittsburg hoodoo.

Infielder Raymer is doing some fine fielding stunts for the Boston Nationals.

Frank Dillon, the much advertised first baseman, has joined the Brooklyn team.

Barney Dreyfuss insists that he has another Phillip in Roscoe Miller, late of the New York Giants.

There will be no more early April openings if Frank Robinson can prevent it. He will fight all 154 game schedules in the future.

Second Baseman Evers, Chicago Nationals, who was one of the quietest players in the business and also one of the best last season, has developed into a regular kicker.

Joe Kelley will make no more changes on his Cincinnati team until June 1. According to the Cincinnati critics, Kelley is playing first base right up to the handle.

Manager Buckenberger has soured on Joe Bean and has informed President Soden of the Boston that he is through with the shortstop. Bean will doubtless go to Jersey City.

Johnny McGraw of the New York Nationals is certainly out for the championship this season. He is ready to play himself and fight every inch of the ground. He is even ready to buck against Harry Pulliam.

The Poodle.

Poodle is derived from the German pudel, a puddle or pool. This dog was originally German, and the name was probably given because of being very closely allied to what is known as the water dog. Poodles are without doubt the most intelligent of all canines.
